2009 represented the 200th Birthday of Charles Darwin and 150th anniversary of his book, On the Origin of Species. Universities, schools, and unfortunately, many churches are still having evolution and Darwin Celebration days. However, the nagging question is: Was Darwin Wrong? Has modern science really offered much to support Darwin's theory? Not just to be a party basher, Dave & Mary Jo Nutting give compelling reasons from biology and the fossil record why Evolution doesn't hold up.
