CARTOONING CAMPS

WITH DAN NUCKOLS

Dan Nuckols has been cartooning ever since he was about 5, and has been published in various publications including the Washington Post. His website, www.danspulpit.com has many of his cartoons in it. Dan has also drawn many caricatures at local county fairs.

In the fall of 2004, Dan created a 16 lesson series on cartooning course. He is now offering these classes through Cartooning Camps (and co-ops).

If you have a student who loves to doodle, these camps would be a great opportunity for your son or daughter to hone those skills and create engaging and fun cartoons!

Parents are more than welcome to join their children in class!

"We had a FANTASTIC Cartoon Camp!! Thanks, Dan Nuckols, for coming over from Minnesota to teach the kids! They learned a LOT and had a good time together." - Monica T.
